Easter Susie vie doughy wee shy stews else Swiss isle oh mow saucy shoe Wooster shale sister Noah dues

Susie says it is easy. We long to see you. Why ask Hester to sweep when we wish her to sew? Whistle to sister when you wish her to show you her keys. We wish her to see it.
Woe to you when Asa Shaw sees you whip his horses.

R-hook

Do you recollect Harry's arrest? Do you wish to rest in our store? The race is free to you. Do your roses grow with long stems?

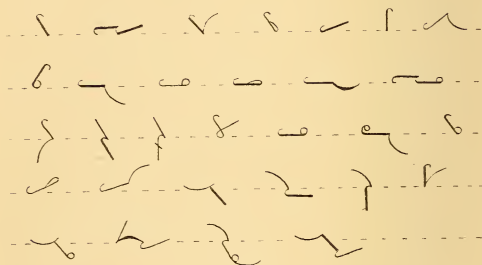

Harry is weary; he wishes to rest. Ruth saw the rascal steal the rosary. Did you dream of Rome? Did you arouse him when you threw the sticks in his room?

Pr- or Br-hook

Broth Hebraic library pray prayer prairie pressure brick prime prism prig prithe probe proem prop prose breach prosaic proxy brace brag brake brawl breath brier brig brim abreast broach

The principal object of our party was to advertise our new drama. Do you think you can establish your business in the United States? They gave your story to the press over an hour before you came. Did you become weary of your trip to Rome? Your knowledge of the subject shows familiarity with a large library.

Pl- or Bl-hook

Oblique plasm playhouse plump blab

Is your office in Wooster? How often do you go out of the United States on business? A dollar will buy only a very few loaves, and one of our party will have to go to town to bring them out. The train was on time when Harry Ruff came home with Alice and Esther from the office.

Tion-hook

Abrasion    aberration    ablution    fusion abscision    affusion    allision    collation allusion    effusion    evasion    lesion    lotion

The action of the auxiliary in regard to the office was peculiar, to say the least. Of what advantage will it be to you if you do recollect the story of the English priest? The Prussians were slain by the English. It is a pleasure to follow the river where it flows through the grassy plains. The Russian was released when he gave his rings to the chief of the thieves. We will be with you at whatever hour you wish. Please bring with you a comprehensive review of the action of the association.

Tion-hook

Assumption arrogation aspersion

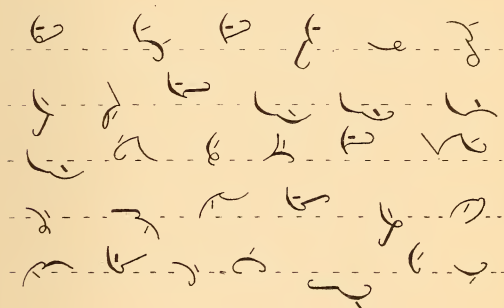

We thank you for your consideration, and we will use your prescription according to directions. The general gave a thousand dollars for the brass eagle. Is there any explanation of his peculiar action with regard to our question? Our representative will astonish the public when he furnishes the money for the exploration of this cave. How are you to advertise this loss when you can say nothing of the conversation you had with Harrison and Brown, and you can give no description of the property. The general will be forgiven for his offense because of the extraordinary influence of our association. Did you understand my question? If you refuse to listen to reason we shall ask the principal to use his influence against you. Will you acknowledge this objection in the regular way? This broken glass will ruin your wheel if you run over it. It will be a pleasure to help you with this problem. It is impossible for us to give you one thousand dollars today. It is a satisfaction to know your objections. They will be happy to do whatever they can to help.

Handwritten cursive script on lined paper, likely a practice sheet. The text is written in a fluid, connected style, possibly representing a foreign language or a specific dialect. The lines are ruled with dashed midlines. The script is dense and fills most of the page.

Exercises in Wordsigns

No particular difficulty was experienced by any of those gentlemen who were familiar with the business. On the previous day the opinion was given out by the principal that very often it would be necessary to inform the gentlemen of the changes made by the officials of the association. When we had become established in the United States we were somewhat astonished to know that your English company had no representative here. This would be the proper thing in England, and every Englishman knows what the consequences would be if he tried to establish a different custom. After this information becomes public, direct acknowledgment will be sent to each individual representing any particular denomination. It would be natural for us all to consider these important questions as coming direct from the special superintendent. it is only proper that they should deliver the necessary property without objection. It is understood to be the largest establishment now doing business in the United States.

Handwritten practice on lined paper, showing various cursive letters and symbols, including numbers like 22 and 3, and symbols like % and /.

Make it up and send it along. If it is not in its place when it should be they will make other arrangements. In some cases it has been done before. If there is anything in it do not hand it to him. Carelessness in other things has been the cause of this. I shall be there when it commences as there is no other way to settle it. Sometimes I think it would be all right, but at other times I think there is nothing right about it. Do you think there is any possibility of the measure passing the legislature? They did not think it best to grant a license permitting gambling. If this is not possible now when do you think it will be? There is no other way to make it. They say they are going there to represent the republican party rather than any particular individual. As it is impossible to explain the difficulty, we cannot see the object of the conversation between the two gentlemen. As there is no other opinion on the subject let us consider the question practically settled. Among other things of importance in the United States is the subject of religious denomination.
